Designed for portability

A pleasure to carry

Thinness and low weight have been the two important characteristics in the mobility market. The ARCHOS 9 is definitely a step ahead in these two aspects. Only 1.7 cm (0.7") thick and weighing only 800 gr. it's the perfect companion to carry along from room to room or train to plane.

Natural touch screen navigation

It's a real pleasure to glide your finger across the gorgeous touch screen of the ARCHOS 9 and its large virtual keyboard makes typing with both hands quick and accurate. The optical trackpoint and the left/right mouse buttons also offer a very convenient alternative for navigating the device.

The right position for the right use

Whatever you're doing on your ARCHOS 9, there's a position for it thanks to the leg stand. Stand it up high for viewing video and photo slideshows, or lay it down low for computing.

High quality multimedia on the move

The ARCHOS 9 is not only about ultra-portability but also about high performance. Intel's latest ATOM Z processor lets you watch all your videos even in full HD1 (1080p resolution). Store all your multimedia content on the 60GB² hard drive + 25GB of virtual storage³. With the ARCHOS 9, you definitely have a highly capable portable PC in your hands. Also, get the benefit of 100€/£80/$100 worth of free VOD movies to download from the ARCHOS Media Club⁴.

Windows® 7 for your favorite software programs

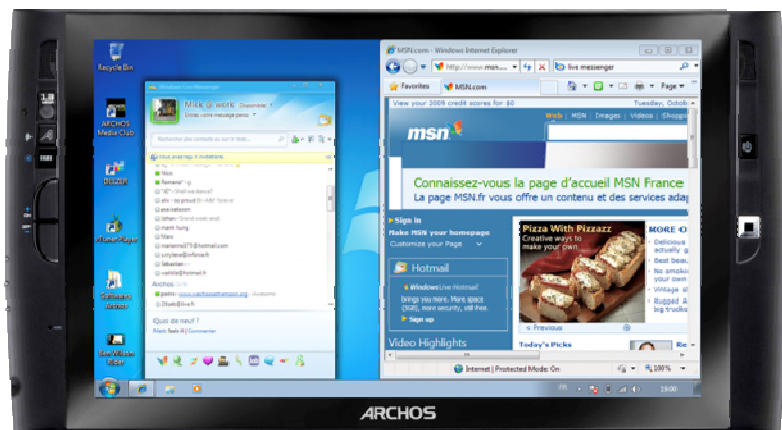

The ARCHOS 9 comes with the highly anticipated Windows® 7 operating system. It provides a very responsive and aesthetic interface with many improvements to simplify your daily tasks.

With Windows® 7 on your ARCHOS 9, browsing the web, creating documents and chatting become very natural and easier than ever. The taskbar with large icons is perfect for the tactile screen of the ARCHOS 9. Also search your files on your device much faster and easier than before with the 'Windows Search' bar directly available in the start menu.

Among the many innovations to simplify your life, the Gadgets are small applications which give you all the daily information you need such as weather forecasts, the latest news, social network updates, etc.

Your web navigation will also be fast and safe with Internet Explorer® 8. This new version of Microsoft's Web browser blocks malware and lets you know if the website you are trying to access may damage your computer.

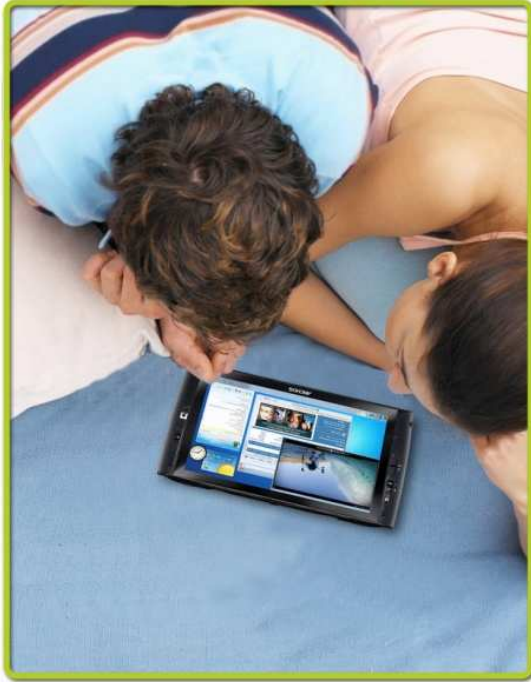

Great connectivity⁵

Bring your whole connected world wherever you go with the ARCHOS 9. When you're out you can do video conferencing, chat with your friends or surf the web 'on the go' just like on your home PC.

You can even connect to Internet via 3G using a 3G USB stick or your Bluetooth® phone.

Of course, as it's a full-fledged portable PC, the ARCHOS 9 also includes USB connectivity to plug in any of your USB devices such as a digital camera or an external hard drive. If you need even more connectivity, the port replicator accessory provides two additional USB ports, a VGA port, an Ethernet connector and 2 additional audio connectors for a headset.

ARCHOS 9 definitely offers the lightest and most convenient "on-the-go" PC experience in an absolutely gorgeous design. You can play HD videos, run your regular software programs and be connected anywhere. Once you get using it, you'll be carrying it along wherever you go.
